experience

Chris is a partner at PKF's Southern Sydney office. He has more than 20 years experience advising small to medium sized enterprises on taxation, accounting and business management, and conducting statutory audits under the Corporations Act.

Chris provides advice to clients from most industries, but he has particular experience with builders and developers, professionals and professional practices, real estate agents, registered clubs, insurance brokers and travel agents. One of the areas in which he advises his clients is trust accounts, such as those for real estate agents, solicitors, and travel agents. He also advises on superannuation funds.

Chris provides input to his clients' day-to-day management decision making on financing, cash flow, profit reporting and cost containment. In the area of taxation, Chris advises on Capital Gains Tax and Fringe Benefits Tax as well as general tax compliance services.
